

..News Gathered From Southside..

Papers have been filed by Mary S. Coxon with Clerk Du Val, of the Corporation Court, in a chancery suit for divorce against Edward O. Coxon. No grounds are stated in the memoranda. The marriage took place here two years ago. Mrs. Coxon was a Miss Mary S. Chalkley, of Chesterfield county, her home being near Mosley's Junction. Mr. Coxon returned to Manchester last fall, since which time he has been living here.

Arrested the Wrong Family.

Policeman Mike Moore arrived in Manchester yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from Powhatan with four prisoners. The captives were Josephine Jones, a colored mother who had three small children with her. The warrant in the case was sworn out by an old negro named Mary Apperson, charging a negro woman with three children and named Jones with having robbed her of $5.

The only unford event in the whole proceedings was the fact that Policeman Moore, arrested the wrong Jones family, and his prisoners were liberated when Mary Apperson failed to identify them.

Just before the trial, which took place before Judge Jordan in the Police Court, the husband of the Jones woman, arrived from Richmond. He appeared to be a very respectable negro. He said that his wife and children had been visiting his wife's parents at Belton, in Powhatan county, where the arrest took place, and while she had recently passed through Manchester, there was really nothing to connect her with the alleged theft.

Death of W. S. Smith.

Funeral of Miss Hall.

The funeral of Miss Thea Hall, who died Wednesday night at her home on West Twelfth Street, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Baltimore Street Baptist Church. The burial will be in the city cemetery.

Miss Hall had been ill for some time, and her death was not unexpected. She had lived in Manchester during her entire life and was exceedingly popular with all who knew her.

Miss Hall was the eldest sister of Clinton Hall, clerk of the Council, who, with her two younger sisters—Misses Mattie and Marion Hall—survive. She was a daughter of the late John W. Hall, City Auditor of Manchester, and was a member of the Baltimore Street Baptist Church.

Squire Jordan Holds Court.

As Mayor Moore was absent from the city yesterday attending the joint Presbyterian Church picnic at Buckroe Beach, Squire Jordan presided in the Police Court and dispensed justice. Only one case demanded his attention in the morning, that being against John Jones, charged with having shot a witness in the case. He testified that as he was walking along Eleventh Street a shot was fired from the opposite sidewalk and a bullet whistled within a foot of his face, embedding itself in a plank fence. The Squire reprimanded the young marksmen severely, and in order to show no partiality, fined each of them $1, which was the cost in the case.

MAJOR GREEN WINS

Laurel Legislator Gets the Better of Mrs. Nation in Colloquy.

Mrs. Carrie Nation made a trip to Washington when she was touring Virginia recently, and naturally one of the first men she met was Major Moses M. Green. She had posted herself about Major Green's habits, and when she saw him her first suggestion was, "I understand you do not drink." "No, ma'am," replied the major, "I have not taken a drink in twenty years." "But you do as bad as drinking," said the crusader, pointing to the major's "cub" pipe, to which he is greatly devoted. "I will ask you a question," said the major, "since you have brought the matter up, which do you think is worse, the use of the abuse of tobacco?" "Well," he said, "you are abusing it and I am only using it."

Major Green was in the city yesterday attending the Capitol rebuilding commission, of which he is a member, and some of his friends heard the story and told it around the Capitol with much delight.

BLAZE WAS SMALL

Started in Blacksmith Shop at Locomotive Works and Quickly Subdued.

Catching fire to a spark from the furnace, a small blaze started in the blacksmith shop of the Locomotive Works late yesterday evening. The watchman was the first to discover it, and promptly went to work with the shop hose. He succeeded in putting the fire out without having to call upon the city department. The only material damage was the breaking of several windows in the shop.

Cutting Case Postponed.

James Taylor, charged with cutting James Arrington, appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning, but on account of the inability of his victim to put in an appearance, the case was postponed until to-morrow.

The two negroes got into a fight near Smith's stables. Arrington "took the count," after having been punctured in several places by Taylor's knife. He was removed to the City Home, where his wounds were found to have become infected. His condition was thought to be serious yesterday.
